Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

4. Claim 1 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Chen (US 6,213,372). Chen'372 discloses a rod "210" having a first end connected to a first end of a connection link "21" and a second end of the rod adapted to be extended over a nose of the stapler (see Fig. 4); a link assembly with a pivotable member "22"; a T-shaped stop member "23" with an upright bar and a horizontal bar; a pulling spring "242" with an end connected to the horizontal bar and the other end of the pulling spring adapted to be connected to a trigger "11" of the stapler; another pulling spring "241" connected between the horizontal bar and the first end of the pivotable member "22"; the second end of the pivotable member "22" is located beside a second end of the connection link "21" (see Fig. 4) being pushed by the second end of the connection link so that the upright bar of the stop member "23" is moved toward the pivotable member "22" to an operation position where an activation member "12" is pressed by the upright bar of the stop member "23" (see Fig. 5).

5. Applicant's arguments with respect to claim 1 have been considered but are moot in view of the new ground(s) of rejection.
